The Academic Teaching Philosophy of American Baptist College

The goal of education at American Baptist College is to articulate intellectual performance in a way that prepares students to develop lives that are ready to be lived in human virtue and public service. Our educational curriculum synthesizes Christian-centered spirituality and higher learning of the humanities and social sciences that embodies justice performed through service.

Bachelor of Arts in Behavioral Studies Program Description

The Bachelor of Arts in Behavioral Studies at American Baptist College is an interdisciplinary program based on the social, psychological and behavioral sciences. The program is designed to train students to understand behavior and solve societal dilemmas at the individual, family and community level. Graduates will be prepared to provide services to enhance personal and social well-being for individuals; promote healthy family and interfamily social development and interactions; and to advocate for healthy development and maintenance of groups and communities.

Student Learning Outcomes

American Baptist College is committed to ensuring its graduates obtain the knowledge and skills necessary to function as educated individuals, responsible citizens, and life-long learners who can communicate Christian values and lead their communities in the biblical tradition of justice seeking prophets.

Upon successful completion of the Behavioral Studies Program, students will be able to:

- Demonstrate an understanding of the role of the Behavioral Studies in a variety of social service settings.
- Examine current social issues and their impact on society, including substance abuse & dependence.
- Compare and contrast a variety of family systems
- Apply interpersonal skills in helping relationships, including crisis intervention and group dynamics.

- Apply case management skills, including documentation, assessment, treatment planning, and the ability to make appropriate referrals.
- Demonstrate the ability to adhere to professional, ethical standards, including confidentiality, sensitivity when working with diverse populations and responsibility for professional growth

A Bachelor of Arts degree in Behavioral Studies is highly valued in the following fields:

- Criminal justice
- Mental health facilities
- Children and youth agencies
- Inpatient and outpatient rehabilitation centers
- Hospitals
- Corporate employee-assistance programs
- Prevention and intervention centers
- Other social service agencies

Behavioral Studies Areas of Concentration

Our program provides both theoretical and practical training for professional roles in three major areas of concentration.

- Addiction Studies

The Addiction Studies concentration recognizes the need for the chemical dependency professional to establish related competencies in other areas -- particularly that of mental health. The concentration increases job readiness through the addiction studies component.

- Mental Health

The Mental Health concentration provides a core of expertise and experience for students who wish to find employment in mental health clinics and centers immediately after graduation. Its addiction studies component increases graduates' job readiness.

- Child Welfare

The Child Welfare concentration provides students with the essential knowledge to address the problem of child maltreatment. The areas of abuse and neglect investigation, in-home services, out-of-home placement, adoption, and parenting education will provide job readiness in the Department of Children and Family Services.
